PUBLISHED BOOKS AND DVD'S:

- 1) Positive Reinforcement-Training Dogs in The Real World-- is a book on applying learning theory to dog training
- 2) Get Connected With Your Dog: Emphasizing the Relationship While Training Your Dog. This book combines the best of positive reinforcement and a thorough working knowledge of learning theory. This took 5 years of research. It was a finalist in the 2008 Writing Competition by the Dog Writers Association of America.
- 3) Canine Body Language: A Photographic Guide. This book won the Maxwell Award through the Dog Writers Association of America. It shows how to identify and interpret the canine language.
- 4) Aggression in Dogs emphasizes how to raise a dog to be non-aggresssive and how to manage and modify a dog who has aggression issues.

This clinic will focus on, but is not necessarily limited to the following topics:

- * relationship exercises to aid in training your dog that are the foundation for every dog owner no matter if it is a family pet or a performance/competition dog
- * training and emotions--how trainers get in their own way so she will teach us how to communicate effectively with our dogs
- * exercises for the “drivey” dogs to preserve the drive and speed, but improves compliance
- * positive reinforcement and boundaries
- * dogs who are reactive towards other dogs
- * the overactive, hyper dogs that have a hard time being calm or still

About the seminar:

Brenda approaches the subject of dog behavior with compassion, understanding, wisdom, and humor. Brenda is down to earth with her explanations and teachings. Her seminars are met with rave reviews by her colleagues, her students, and probably by the very dogs whose lives have been enhanced and improved!
